

First Time Login—PLEASE READ THIS

Turn on your computer and allow it to boot. The Mac OS X login screen will appear. Enter your Denison username and Novell password and click Log In.

What You'll Find on Your New Computer

- ♦ All of Denison's standard software has been installed:

Microsoft Office 2011

Adobe Reader

RealPlayer

iLife '11

Safari

Stuffit Expander

iTunes

Firefox

Flip4Mac

iWork '09

Oracle Calendar

Fugu

McAfee VirusScan

QuickTime

If you would like to install additional, non-standard software on your computer, you will need the software media and license key(s) to install it.

- ♦ Files from your old computer are accessible via the <username>.dmg icon on the Desktop. To restore files from <username>.dmg:

1. Double-click the <username>.dmg icon on your desktop. A Finder window will open displaying the files from your old computer. (If you have a lot of files, this may take a few minutes.)

2. Navigate within Finder to locate the desired files and folders. Select and copy those files and folders.
3. Double-click the UserSpace icon on the Desktop of your new computer. Navigate to the desired location within your UserSpace and paste the files and folders to be copied.

- ♦ Apple Mail has been configured to access your Denison email account.
- ♦ Helpful additional information about your new computer is located in a file on your Desktop titled Your New iMac.

Power Settings

Power settings have been configured to conserve energy. The display will go to sleep after a period of inactivity. Press any key or move the mouse to wake the system.

As a security precaution, you will be prompted to enter your password to resume using a device that has gone into a power-saving mode.

To adjust these settings, from the Apple menu, select System Preferences and then Energy Saver.
